A crock of gold, (or red or blue or white) at the end of the rainbow?

A quick glance through the illustrations in this catalogue quickly reinforce my opinion that nothing shouts spring louder than a collection of pots overflowing with bulbs, whether it is a single variety crammed into a pot or a glorious mix of different varieties for a long lasting display.

This year the catalogue has a few well-known absences, hopefully only temporary, but there are also lots of exciting new ideas. The early flowering shorter tulips (page 25), inspired by entries in the superb trial at Wisley has 3 additions. 'Mariss Jansons' is a new variety that really took the breath away of the judging forum. On a dull day it actually glowed. I have long grown 'Quebec' in containers and love 'The First' which really lives up to its name. All of these have large flowers on short sturdy stems that open flat in the sun.

'Yellow Sailboat' (page 23), sometimes erroneously listed as 'Lemon Sailboat', has to be one of the most floriferous of all shorter daffodils. I grow it in pots with 'Toto' along with the new Muscari 'Mountain Lady' with its delightful white top knot where it flowers for weeks. Again it is outstanding in the Wisley trial.

This year we have included the large flowered blue wood Anemone 'Robinsoniana' (page 4). As can be seen on the front cover it is a perfect foil for N 'Quail' in part shade. The new 'Golden Echo' (page 19) is another excellent daffodil for shade where its long lemon trumpet almost glows. It is a good companion for N. 'Rapture' another introduction.

With everything from early crocus to late alliums there is plenty in this catalogue to make sure your garden is a continuing treasure of delight.
